How can I do it? A: That button is probably the property enabled of UIButton. If you set it to false, the user can't press it. You may also want to set the property disabled to true if you don't want the user to be able to press it. If the button is clickable, you can change the action of the button if you'd like to set it to be nil. In that way the button won't do anything. Q: How to change shell_exec() content to variable for mysqli_connect()? I am using the Zend Framework library. I want to change the content of the shell_exec() command in order to display variables to mysqli_connect() with the below code. $sqlFile = "drop table a123;delete from b123;"; $mysqli = new mysqli("localhost","root","","mydb"); $mysqli->query($sqlFile) or die($mysqli->error); $mysqli->close(); I do not want to echo the string directly because this string is different every time. I have used a variable $sqlFile; How can I do this? Thank you very much. A: If you do not want to echo the string directly, do it directly with mysqli_real_escape_string. if ($mysqli->multi_query($sqlFile)) { /* store the result in a variable, mysqli_real_escape_string will escape the result properly */ $results = $mysqli->store_result(); } Q: How to remove strings surrounded by parentheses in R?
