WEST TOWN, Chicago — A police officer shot two people and himself during a domestic-violence incident in West Town early Sunday, authorities said. The officer was responding to a 911 call about a domestic dispute at 2:30 a.m. in the 11000 block of West Foster Avenue, Chicago police said. When officers arrived, they saw "a male who appeared to be in his 40s or 50s" arguing with a woman in front of their home, according to police. The man and woman then entered a home and began arguing inside. The man allegedly assaulted the woman, police said. As the officers tried to talk to the man and woman, a police sergeant arrived, and the woman told him that the man had a gun, according to police. When the sergeant turned around, he was shot in the arm. The man then fired at him, but missed. The man then chased the sergeant into the kitchen, where he fatally shot him, police said. The man then began shooting at police again, and a member of the force returned fire, striking the man and the woman, who was wounded in the chest, police said. The officer who was shot in the arm was transported to Illinois Masonic Hospital. His condition was not released. The man and the woman were taken to Mount Sinai Hospital, where they were both in critical condition, police said. The man was pronounced dead at 3:13 a.m., and the woman was pronounced dead at 4:04 a.m. Area Central detectives are investigating. Area Central detectives are investigating
